Mothers are important, but also mothering and befriending, grand parenting and neighboring all shape us too as we grow, come to know ourselves, choose how and who we'd like to be in the world. This Mother's Day we will celebrate the stories of, as Garrison Keillor says, "The Mothers and Others."

Wish Guidance on Using Zoom?

There are a variety of ways you can learn how to connect through Zoom.

The Church has prepared a Guide that explains the Zoom system, and all the basics you need to know in using the system. To access the Guide, click here.

You can also access brief on-line tutorials on Zoom To see an example of these tutorials (on how to join a Zoom meeting) click here.

During these times we want you to have our e-mail information handy. Please reach out to your ministers for any reason -- you are having a hard time (or know someone who is); you have a great idea for our new version of shared life in these times (or know someone with skills we could use in this chapter of life together); and because you don't know who to call about what's on your mind. Keep these handy:

What would you like to see happen or like to host?

Send your ideas to Senior Minister, Vanessa Rush Southern at VRSouthern@uusf.org

Or if it is an Adult Education/Spiritual Growth programming idea send it to Associate Minister, Alyson Jacks, at AJacks@uusf.org

If you have pastoral needs (everything from wanting to talk about the strain of these times to being worried about needing food delivered) e-mail our Ministerial Intern, Sharon Weld, at SWeld@uusf.org

It is available on Kindle! For those who need help securing an online copy through Kindle, call the office (415-776-4580) or email us at info@uusf.org and we can try to help.

The Pagan Interest Circle's May Full Moon Ritual Meets and Does Magic In the Virtual World

Saturday, May 9, 7PM (Zoom)

As we all still shelter-in-place, the world is showing signs of "opening up for business" while there still is no vaccine for the coronavirus or sufficient testing for infection or antibodies to proclaim us all safe. Fortunately, we witches know a thing or two about protection and healing!

Let's pool our collective wisdom and "power-up" through the Pandemic!

The Interfaith Food Pantry is going strong with a number of adjustments to accommodate for COVID-19. Anyone wanting to volunteer!
<https://signup.com/go/pambAKf>

- All five churches are working together, rather than rotating with each church taking responsibility for a single Saturday according to the calendar as we have done in the past. The reason here is that we are trying to have younger volunteers and encouraging anyone who is over 60 to stay home. The next pantry is every Saturday, rather than May 16 as all the churches are pitching in together to try to get younger volunteers. (One church only had volunteers who were over 60.)
- A truck from the SF/Marin food pantry still delivers food at 7:30 am at Old First Presbyterian Church at the corner of Van Ness and Sacramento (1751 Sacramento St, San Francisco, CA 94109)
- Volunteers can still park in the church garage slightly east of the church on Sacramento. We give out stickers, so volunteers can park for free.
- We make an attempt to distance volunteers who unload the truck. Everyone wears gloves and masks as available. We use disinfectant spray liberally.
- We use the large room, where the clients used to line up, for the volunteers to pack the food for our clients into paper bags. (Anything which falls on the floor is discarded.) Each client gets only one bag, so they get a little less food than before.
- The bags are then taken upstairs where the clients pick the pre-loaded bags from tables we set up outside in order to minimize volunteers' contact with clients. We are now just checking pantry cards and no longer check ID's to streamline the process to get clients are on their way with a minimum of contact with volunteers.
- We do have a translator as about 80% of our clients are Cantonese, many of whom are monolingual. We are purchasing an awning to protect the bags in case of rain.
- Please contact Megan Lehmer if you have any questions: mlehmer@gmail.com

Too many of us awaken to the (sometimes overwhelmingly) bad news of the day. To incoming emails or texts asking us to do those things that we either know that we don't want to do, or that we don't feel capable of doing. How we start each day can shape the whole day and our presence and attitude in it. During this disruptive time of sheltering in place, self-isolation and physical distancing, John and Margot you join them by Zoom, weekly on Monday mornings, To explore how to begin, deepen, and sustain a spiritual practice of "Welcoming the Day" Although both are inspired by the spiritual practice of the late Dr. Harry Scholefield, This is not a "one size fits all" approach to spiritual resilience. Far from it! Please join us.

Urgent Immigration Action in the Age of COVID-19

Zoom Meeting May 8, 6:30-8 PM – Discussion re activism opportunities and letter writing to ICE detainees in the Yuba City, CA facility

In the midst of the COVID-19 crisis, the already dire and inhumane conditions in which immigrants are being held for the “crime” of wanting a better life for themselves and their families has become an even more urgent crisis. Most of our country’s residents have been under shelter in place orders, adhering to strict hand washing and sanitation requirements, and advised to wear masks and maintain 6 ft social distancing to slow the spread of the virus.

Yet children, families, individual immigrants, and undocumented long time US residents are still being held in crowded unsanitary detention facilities with little available medical services. The rate of viral spread in such situations is rapid and catastrophic. These are death camps waiting to happen. So while now is the time for us to be safe and shelter in our homes – for the sake of our own health as well as that of our communities.

WE MUST NOT BE SILENT! (click here to read more)

People of Color At UUSF

Sunday, May 10, 1PM, Zoom Video Call

Our country is challenged by negative and disabling attitudes and policies about race which must be countered to achieve a kinder and more just society for all. Communities across the country are searching for ways to become more welcoming and less indifferent to harmful conventions towards people of color.

The UUSF community is a part of this efforts and some members have established a People of Color group to help explore ways to achieve this goal. In one of their efforts supported by the Human Rights Working Group, members Shulee Ong and Lori Lai, DHSc, produced a series of videos called “Beloved Stories” which capture the compelling and insightful stories of members who identify as a POC.

We will view one of the videos that features the life experiences of Mary Jane Mikuriya, a long-time member of UUSF. To join by Zoom click on the link below or you can join by phone to hear the audio part of the video and discussion.

From the Caring Community

Are you missing your celebration?

One of the things missing in this world of social distancing during COVID-19 is the chance to celebrate milestones with friends. Some of our fondest memories at UUSF are being together in the courtyard after services sharing food and refreshments and celebrating some milestone for a community member.

So, during this time of quarantine, have you had a milestone you would like the community to know about, and celebrate? For example, are you celebrating a particularly significant birthday or anniversary? Graduating high school or college or getting an advanced degree this semester? Retiring? Have some other milestone you want to share? If so, send an email to Marty Vanderlaan, sfmist@sbcglobal.net or call Marty at 650-491-4907. In the email briefly describe what milestone you would like to celebrate and why it is important to you.

The Lay Chaplains plan to throw a “party” at UUSF to recognize your milestone! OK, we have never thrown an on-line Zoom party before, so we don’t yet have the details of what that will involve, and when it will occur. But we figure everyone needs a little “pick me up” during these times, so we are looking for reasons to celebrate and cheer you for your milestone. If you have ideas on how we might “celebrate in community” while maintaining social distancing, send those idea to Marty as well.

In community,
The Lay Chaplains

Welcome to the First Unitarian Universalist Society of San Francisco

Since its founding in 1850 our congregation has been a beacon of religious liberalism in this city. During the Civil War, the Rev. Thomas Starr King was credited with keeping California in the Union. He also challenged racism, raised millions for humanitarian relief and inspired new efforts in education.

Unitarianism and Universalism in America both arose in New England during the American Revolution. Because the roots of both traditions are in the Judeo-Christian tradition, you will see on the walls of our sanctuary two inscriptions:

"What doth the Lord require of thee, but to do justly, to love mercy, and to walk humbly with your God?" (from the Hebrew prophet Micah) and "The Kingdom of God is within you." (from the Gospels)

Our religious forebears were far more interested in the teaching examples of Jesus than in beliefs about Jesus. Today we agree more about how we strive to treat others than we do about beliefs. Our backgrounds and spiritual orientations are diverse. Among us are people who consider themselves atheists, agnostics, humanists, Christians, Jews, Buddhists, Muslims, Pagans and people guided by other forms of spirituality and belief.

Belief is many things, and so is disbelief. But we are interested in what happens to us when we open our minds to wider truth, our hearts to compassion, and our souls to the call to work for justice and peace.

For more about our congregation, please visit our website at www.uusf.org.
